

LAURA BANDUR, 36

May 4, 2006 – Omaha, NE

Laura was shot to death by her ex-husband, Eric Bandur, who then turned the gun on himself. Before her death, Laura obtained a protection order against Bandur after he pulled a loaded gun on her in Phoenix, AZ. After their divorce was finalized, Laura was able to leave Phoenix for Omaha to escape Bandur. He was able to track her and shot her four days after a court ordered that child support be withdrawn from his paychecks.

The couple's two young children, ages 11 and 7, were in the house when Bandur murdered their mother. The 18-year relationship was often abusive. Bandur was jealous and controlling, warning signs of domestic violence.
